Kidney is transplanted—'He's not heavy, he's my brother...'

BECERRA BROTHERS. Close family ties between brothers continues today among the Becerras, who discussed which one was best able to provide a kidney for Louie, center, front row. He underwent the kidney transplant last week. The eventual donor was Alphonzo, third from left

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer
Some people may have difficulty finding a donor when they urgently need a kidney transplant, but Louie Becerra of Granite City had six donors lined up before it was known for certain the surgical procedure was necessary. Louie, 48, is one of seven Becerra brothers who grew up in Granite City. Although two now live in other states, the close family relationship remains firm today.

He underwent the transplant Wednesday morning at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis.

On Thursday, he was out of the intensive care unit and the new kidney was functioning adequately.

It had not been rejected by his body, a condition that often occurs in the transplantation of organs.

The brother donating one of his two healthy kidneys is Alphonzo Becerra, 40. He is in a room not far away from Louie's hospital bed.

Alphonzo told family members Thursday that he "feels really good," with few after-effects from the delicate surgery, a procedure that can be equally as hard on the donor as on the recipient, it was learned.

He is expected to remain a patient for the next week.

Louie Becerra will be hospitalized from three to five weeks.

Prior to the operation, the brothers discussed Louie's problem, some via telephone calls. All were willing to donate a kidney to their ailing brother.

It was discovered that two of the brothers probably would not make suitable donors, due to past medical problems.

Eventually, Alphonzo's offer was accepted by the brothers and arrangements for the operation were made.

Dr. Charles B. Anderson of Washington University's Department of Surgery performed the surgery to remove Alphonzo's kidney. His partner, Dr. Gregorio A. Sicaud, placed the healthy organ inside the donor's beggar, Louis.

Both men are patients on the sixth floor at Barnes Hospital, with Alphonzo in Room 6239.

Louie had been in ill health for about one year.

A dialysis machine was unable to be used to alleviate his condition because of another medical problem, and it was determined about a month ago that a kidney transplant would be necessary.

The family conference ensued and Alphonzo was the brother selected to donate a kidney, if acceptable.

Louis is employed as a wirewinder at NL Industries. He has been off work for (Continued on Page 13)

HOLY WEEK SPEAKER. Rabbi Robert P. Jacobs, executive vice-president of the St. Louis Rabbinical Association, will be the speaker this year at the Holy Week luncheon for local men's service clubs April 10.

A plan of attack for future control of potholes, street conditions and other problems confronting the Granite City Street Department is being formulated by re-elected Street Superintendent Lionel Portell and City Engineer Monroe Brewer and other city officials.

Portell pledged at last week's council meeting that he will attempt to have a plan and funding request completed for the council's next meeting Tuesday, April 17.

"I would like to get with the city engineers and evaluate the situation and present a request and plan," Portell said.

He noted that a $15,000 emergency appropriation for tree limb removal and pothole repairs approved this year by the council has been expended, but declined to accept another special appropriation for tree limb removal repairs is completed.

Alderman Clyde "Bus" Boyd of the Third Ward had suggested that further money be appropriated for the street department, due to numerous potholes in the streets.

Supt. Portell said recent rains have washed out much of the material put in most potholes, but that his department is continuing to repair them as fast as possible.

Some areas, such as Namecki Road, are the responsibility of the state Department of Transportation, since they are state highways, and the street superintendent said that calls to the department at French Village have failed to bring adequate relief.

"I do not like to work on state highways, but if we can't get them moving on that, we will do it ourselves," he said.

Alderman Ron Coleman of the Seventh Ward complained that one pothole on Namecki Road near Madison County Federal Savings & Loan Association "is large enough to lie down in. I have had complaints of people who have lost hubcaps in there. It's surprising someone hasn't lost a whole wheel."

In other business, the council, meeting as the town board, approved sale of a $50,000 tax anticipation warrant for the general assistance fund, which is running short of funds for the 1978-79 fiscal year.

Bills paid for the township totaled $9,410 from the town fund, $4,419 from general assistance, $1,113 from federal revenue sharing and $185 from the Anti-Recession Fiscal Assistance Act fund.

The board agreed to hire the Oliver Schneider certified public accountant (Continued on Page 13)

25% valuation level proposed

Rep. Sam Wolf of Granite City announced Saturday that he had filed House Bill 2242 for the purpose of slowing down the inflationary spiral of property tax assessment levels.

Wolf said his bill provides that the assessment level will be reduced from the present 33 one-third percent to 25 per cent immediately for the assessment year 1979; further, that the assessment level be reduced to 24 per cent for the assessment year 1980, to 23 per cent for the assessment year 1981, and to 22 per cent for the assessment years thereafter.

"The requirement that tax districts to the present 33 one-third percent level has created unforeseen and burdensome tax increases to all property owners further complicated by the 12 per cent to 15 per cent annual inflationary increase in property values," Wolf said.

GC girl apprentice court reporter here

Debra Ann Griffin has completed a brief apprenticeship period as a court reporter at the Third Judicial Circuit Court in Granite City and Edwardsville.

She is continuing the "on-the-job" practical training at the Murphysboro court.

Miss Griffin is a student in the College of Technical Careers at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, where she has maintained a straight "A" average for four semesters.

She also has been named to the dean's list for the four semesters.

Miss Griffin, 19, will graduate Aug. 4, 1979, with an associate degree in court and conference reporting.

Upon successful completion of state examinations in June, she hopes to become a state certified court reporter (SCR). Already, she has passed a preliminary state examination, or "B" test, as it is known.

The 1977 graduate of Granite City High School South is the daughter of Mr.

DEBRA GRIFFIN

and Mrs. Richard J. Griffin, 2007 Garfield Ave.

As an STUC student, Miss Griffin also works in the office of the dean and is continuing her apprenticeship outside the school confines by participating in regular court sessions in Murphysboro.

New Tower Lake policy

Students living at Tower Lake Apartments will have to renew their housing contracts in May to keep their rooms. The last day to file is May 9. Damage deposits will be returned after the form is filed.

May 2, 3 or 4 to file an intent-to-vacate form to avoid a penalty for giving less than 30 days' notice. The last day to file is May 9. Damage deposits will be returned after the form is filed.

Steve Keren, resident staff coordinator, said all fall renewal contracts must be picked up at the Commons Building during the three-day renewal period, May 2-4, or students may lose their housing options. To insure fall housing, the options must be returned with an advance payment by May 17.

All available space after May 4 will be offered to applicants on the waiting list, and all unpaid contracts will be cancelled after May 17 without exceptions or deferrals.

The policy change is intended to eliminate previous problems with different due dates, orange application cards and the necessity of contacting students who leave the campus during the summer quarter.

The plan will also give more accurate vacancy information for better service and will guarantee housing for students by May instead of September.

To reserve rooms under the new system for the fall quarter, residents must pick up the fall contract in person (or through a friend) in the Commons Building between 8:30 a.m. and 8:30 p.m. May 2, 3 or 4.

Advance payment for families and single residents continuing to live at Tower Lake during the summer is $12. Residents leaving during the summer but returning in the fall must pay $41.00 in advance.

Keren advised students who are uncertain of fall plans to pick up a contract and pay the advance by May 17. They may cancel the renewal contract without penalty until Aug. 1.

Current Tower Lake residents who will not need a room for the fall quarter must also go to the Commons

John Montgomery dies after crash

Mr. Montgomery's wife, Marie, also was taken by ambulance to the Granite City hospital and was released after treatment of injuries to the neck and shoulders.

Two passengers in the Cella auto, Brian Grupe, 19, of 2802 Nameski Drive, and Robert Conreaux, 19, of 2701 Whipoorwill Lane, went to the medical center by ambulance for treatment. Much of the world's gold is produced in South Africa's 45 gold mines, some going as far as two miles deep. They employ 250,000 people yet the total yield is only 25 million fine ounces... about 760 metric tons of gold per year.

Considering its scarcity, as well as its beauty and durability, gold is something of a bargain. Our gold jewelry includes many lovely pieces.

Jury changes sought

Legislation to reform the state's jury selection process has been introduced by State Rep. Everett G. Steele (R-Glen Carbon). The measure would broaden the selection process by combining the use of registered voter lists with a list of persons over 19 years of age holding driver's licenses.

"Currently, jurors are selected only from registered voter lists," Rep. Steele noted.

"This antiquated and biased system is restrictive and has been proven to actually discourage citizens from registering to vote. Under HB 1276, a broader jury composition would result by selecting those persons over 18 and holding a driver's license with those from a list of registered voters."

Steele commented that the current jury selection process "both disinterests and discourages citizens from becoming registered voters and exercising their voting rights because of fear of serving on a jury."

"My bill would not only broaden the pool from which jurors are selected, but also remove the barrier of reluctance that prevents many citizens from registering.

"By eliminating voter lists as the sole criteria for selecting jurors, a fairer, wider range of jurors can then be assembled."

Steele said only 17 of the 50 states presently use the system currently used in Illinois.

"Research concerning jury composition reveals that these 17 states have lower numbers of registered voters than those states that use other types of jury selection procedures," he said.

"The National Conference

for Uniform State Laws has also determined that the most fair and equitable judicial system is one which encompasses a wide variety of jurors from our society's spectrum. In addition, by using a larger number of possible jurors, a person's actual chance of serving would be reduced.

"I believe my legislation will induce those non-registered voters, who have held previous fears of serving on a jury, to exercise their right to vote. It will also provide for wider, more representative jury makeup."

8 charged in drug warrants

Granite City police and agents of the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois (MEGSI) conducted a coordinated series of arrests in Granite City and Madison County Friday, resulting in six persons being arrested on drug warrants. Two others are expected to surrender to authorities today.

Michael P. Mull, 19, of 2436 Lincoln Ave., was arrested at home at 11 a.m. Friday on a warrant alleging unlawful delivery of cannabis.

Grace L. Lingle, 33, of 2133 Ohio Ave., who also uses the names Grace Peterson and Tingle, according to police, was arrested in downtown Granite City at 11:30 a.m. Friday on three warrants alleging unlawful delivery of a controlled substance.

Jack Graham, 24, of 4510 Kirkpatrick Homes, surrendered at the police station at noon and was charged with delivery of cannabis. Drew Callender, 19, of 2617 W. 22nd St., was arrested at 1:45 p.m. Friday at his home and was charged with unlawful delivery of a controlled substance (PCS). Pice also alleged finding a cigarette box with 12 rolled marijuana cigarettes in his shirt pocket and a plastic bag containing 11 grams of marijuana in his trousers pocket and added a state charge of unlawful possession of marijuana against him.

All four appeared before a judge in Granite City between 4:10 and 4:40 p.m. Friday and mittimus were issued, giving county deputies authority to take them to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

They were taken at 3:55 a.m. Saturday to Edwardsville and Mrs. Lingle was transferred to the St. Clair County Jail at Belleville because of a shortage of women's cells in the Madison County Jail.

Bonds were set by Associate Judge Thomas Gibbons at $25,000 each for Mull, Graham and Callender and $75,000 for Mrs. Lingle.

Arrested by Madison County sheriff's deputies and MEGSI agents were William Wood, 21, Wood River, charged with two counts of delivery of a controlled substance and Donna Whitford, 25, of 2115 Dewey Ave., who was arrested on Old Alton Road and charged with delivery of a controlled substance. His bond was set at $40,000 and hers at $25,000.

MEGSI Director Richard Woods said warrants have been issued against several other persons and two have agreed to report to authorities today.

They are Linda J. Constant, 24, of 1637 Spruce St., charge with two counts of delivery of a controlled substance (cocaine), whose bond is set at $50,000, and George Groves, 25, of 2100 Alton Ave., Madison, charged with delivery of a controlled substance. His bond is $25,000.

Woods said more arrests are anticipated and a juvenile petition is to be filed against one Granite City boy who has not been arrested.

He said the arrests were the culmination of a four-month undercover investigation in which MEGSI agents purchased marijuana, cocaine, PCS (angel dust) and other drugs, primarily in Granite City.

The Madison County state's attorney's office is charged in preparing the charges and in processing the arrests, Woods said.

Mrs. Bernice Sloss dies

Mrs. Bernice H. (Lamm) Sloss, 56, of 2617 Fortune Drive, was found lying on the bedroom floor on the side of her bed without signs of life by her husband, William F. Sloss, early Saturday. She was pronounced dead at the scene at 4:14 a.m. Saturday by David Partney, a Madison County deputy coroner.

Mrs. Sloss had tried to reach her husband at work and he arrived at the house after receiving the message and calling authorities. There were no indications of foul play and an inquest will be held to determine the cause of death.

Mrs. Sloss was born in St. Louis and had lived here for 39 years.

She was employed as a cook at Prather Junior High School for five years. Mrs.

Salem, assistant principal of Granite City High School North; four brothers, William "Mike" Ebersoldt, former mayor of Venice, Ralph and Robert Ebersoldt, also of Venice, and Charles Ebersoldt of Granite City; and two grandchildren, Lia and Terry Michael Salem. Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Replacement tax concern

In a continuing effort to balance costs and revenue of the Granite City School District, members of the Board of Education Tuesday night agreed to send letters to the governor and state representatives urging that replacement tax yield revenue be at least equal to that lost be abolition of the corporate tax.

The board cited an Illinois Association of School Boards report that "among the most critical problems affecting school districts in relation to this legislation are:

"Will the dollar amount of replacement be based on extensions or collections?"

"What will be the base year for determining replacement?"

"Will the replacement tax provide for inflationary growth or will there be an arbitrary growth limitation? Will there be a dollar-for-dollar replacement to school districts or will there be a new distribution mechanism?"

"How do we deal with the problem of existing limits on bonding power that are affected by the removal of corporate personal property?"

"What about issuing tax anticipation warrants (limited by a percentage of property taxes)? What are the short-term and long range effects on the school aid formula?"

Mrs. Anna Mulnik dies

Mrs. Anna (Mazur) Mulnik, 85, of 1539 Sixth St., Madison, Ill. for 16 months, died at 6:15 p.m. Sunday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where she had been a patient for five days.

A native of Poland, Mrs. Mulnik had resided in the Quad-City area 67 years.

She was a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church.

Her husband, John Mulnik, died Sept. 1, 1955, and a son, Frank Mulnik, preceded her in death.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Rose Tarasovich, Madison; two sons, Sigmond Mulnik, Venice, and Albert Mulnik, Edwardsville; 10 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Death in popular culture

CAUSES OF DEATH.

A major reason for the striking change in mortality rates during the 20th century is a change in the causes of death. The major communicable diseases, for example, tuberculosis, influenza and pneumonia, and severe intestinal infections, were leading causes of death in 1900. These diseases often struck hardest at the young.

Today only influenza and pneumonia, occurring mainly among the aged, are still leading causes, while heart disease, cancer and stroke, also generally occurring later in life, have largely replaced the communicable diseases in causing death. Together these four illnesses now account for 70 percent of all deaths.

Because these degenerative diseases so often require extended medical supervision, dying occurs more frequently today in a hospital, nursing home, or other institutional setting than formerly. The proportion of deaths occurring there increased rapidly during the 1940s and 1950s, and it may be as much as two-thirds of all deaths today.

This shift in the place of death has, on the one hand, relieved the family of what was often a crushing personal burden of caring for many years for the terminally ill. On the other hand, institutional care has imposed new, often overwhelming emotional and financial burdens.

THE INEQUALITY OF DEATH.
Mortality rates have not been the same for all groups in our population, however. Today, even more than in 1900, mortality and survivorship are substantially more favorable for women than for men; women now outlive men on the average 7.75 years. Very recently, however, the widening of this sex differential has halted, although perhaps only momentarily.

The lower mortality of women in the adult years results in female predominance among the aged. Women today outnumber men by 43 percent after age 65, 69 percent after 75, and 103 percent after 85.

Widows are numerous, widowers relatively rare. As a consequence, many of our elderly face emotional and financial insecurity in our couple-oriented society.

Mortality and survivorship also differ substantially with race, again a difference that has persisted throughout the century. Whites live on the average 5.2 years longer than nonwhites.

This inequality in mortality rates is greatest during infancy and early life and again at ages 25-44, when a nonwhite is twice as likely to die as a white. The difference tapers off during mid-life to the point where nonwhites actually enjoy a lower rate of mortality than whites after age 75.

The death rate for nonwhites is higher for all major causes of death, but especially for hypertension, cerebrovascular diseases, kidney diseases, and homicide; however, nonwhites have a lower suicide rate.

Certain socio-economic groups in this country also suffer from higher mortality rates than others. The United States is considered here as consisting of three major groups with unique life styles: a white-collar middle class, blue-collar workers, and the poor.

The middle class generally lives in suburbs and the better areas of cities. Most blue-collar workers — those in mass production and service industries — live in cities; in addition, because they generally resemble them in life style, lower-level salespeople and clerks, as well as small farmers, rural nonfarm people, and small-town residents are included here with blue-collar. Finally, the poor include many in both large city ghettos and rural areas.

Studies of mortality in Maryland, a state much like the country as a whole, show that suburbanites and Baltimore's middle class, as well as its blue-collar workers and even the rural poor, have substantially lower mortality than the urban poor, from infancy to old age.

The high mortality for the urban poor is a continuing challenge to medicine, even though it may result in part from non-medical factors — low living standards, poor environmental and social conditions, and lack of access to medical care and poor medical histories in the past.

The rural poor have lower mortality than their income alone suggests. While not as healthy as suburbanites and the urban middle class, their mortality is lower than the urban poor and blue-collar workers. This is true for whites considered separately; for nonwhites, however, mortality for the rural poor is close to that of their urban poor.

Overall, the improvements in mortality in the United States over the last 10 years, especially from heart

Mitchell is urging better maintenance

Improved preventive maintenance in the Granite City Park District was urged last week at a meeting of the Anchorage's Senior Citizens by a park board candidate, Joseph H. Mitchell. About 65 attended.

Mitchell asserted that "20 years ago, our district had little, if any, real estate except for Wilson Park itself and Triangle Park in West Granite."

"Since the 1950s, our park boards have seen fit to purchase and build much-needed buildings, etc. This is all well and good."

"What I think the Park District lacks is a board that stays up-to-date on the maintenance and preventive maintenance of these buildings, including the skating rink and the swimming pool."

"We have let our building get in need of repairs while we've added salaried personnel and are now in the process of hiring a full-time swimming pool manager."

"The board president says the pool is in very bad shape, and he is worried that it may not pass state inspection."

"Why do we need a manager when we may not even have a pool for him to manage?"

"If I am elected, I promise to the taxpayers that I will do all in my power to put all our buildings and equipment into good condition as our tax money permits, and follow through with a good, workable preventive maintenance program."

"I believe all our taxpayers want a nice park and buildings. They deserve it and they should demand nothing less."

Block pay of new employee

The Granite City Council last week refused to approve $800 in salary claims for a new employee of the Granite City Township assessor's office, because no appropriation had been made in the assessor's budget for another deputy.

Alderman Paul Ray Bowler of the Seventh Ward noted salaries totaling $800 on the township bill list for Terry Ralph Schmidt, a deputy in the assessor's office.

The salary request was for a period from March 26 to April 15 and Bowler said it would appear the salary is higher than other deputy assessors, including some with many years of seniority, are receiving in the office. He said he has been told Schmidt came here recently after leaving the staff of Madison County Supervisor of Assessments James Barton.

'Little' Madison does well with 'the big boys'

By PETE HAYES

Sports Editor of the Press-Record

BELLEVILLE — It boiled down to a battle of the titans as expected here Saturday in the Mineral Area Track Meet at Belleville East. But Madison High's "Little" Trojans did pretty well for themselves, too.

Madison managed a fourth place finish in the meet which was won by defending state Class AA champion East St. Louis. The Flyers edged cross-town rival East St. Louis Lincoln for the team title 84-52. Alton snuck past Madison for third place with 25 1/2 points while the Trojans had 16.

Scoreboard

Mon., April 9, 1979

Granite City South finished in a three-way tie for 14th place with four points while Granite City North was 17th with three points (complete team standings and results in Scoreboard). Madison track coach Charles Steptoe was pleased with his team's showing, but felt it could have been higher. "We missed out in some of the field events," he said. "We felt we could have possibly gotten as high as third place if we'd gotten better finishes out of our long jump and triple jump."

Madison, normally a power in both events, did not place in either.

Steptoe said he was looking to see if various event combinations would work for him in later meets. "We especially wanted to see if (Earnest) Davenport and (Marcus) White could doubleup and be able to come back from the 220 in time for the mile relay. They couldn't."

Warriors sweep 2 from Comets

By KEVIN ALLEN

of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Granite City South's Warriors had just completed a double header sweep of the Greenville Comets, 6-2, 3-2, Saturday, but from the reaction of South's coach Babe Champion, you wouldn't have guessed it. Champion was obviously upset. Just before he addressed his team assembled on the infield grass after the game he said, "We just didn't play that well. Mentally, we made too many mistakes."

Perhaps it was bad timing, because the second game ended with Greenville threatening to spoil South's sweep.

South took a 2-0 lead into the seventh, having scored two runs in the sixth. But the Comets, who had gone scoreless for the first six innings refused to go out quietly.

In the seventh, the Comets put their lead-off man on with a single. Then Greenville's pitcher, Ken Brown, attempting a sacrifice bunt, pitched first when South's pitcher, Mike DeGonia, bobbled the ball. The runner at first was out when he tried to advance to third on the error.

Jeff Irwin then singled to right, moving Brown to third. Irwin was forced at second on what should have been an inning-ending double play. But the throw from second baseman Bob Stegemeier was low and skipped past first basemen Todd McFarland.

When Irwin at third saw that the ball had rolled free, he headed for home. The throw to the plate was wide and Wally Auchner, who started the ball bouncing, went to second.

The Comets followed with two singles, scoring Auchner, and putting the lead run on first.

At this point, Champion went to the mound and called right fielder Jeff Tretter, who had pitched six innings of the first game, in to relieve DeGonia. Tretter retired the side when he got Rod Childers on a grounder to second.

The close call didn't exactly leave Champion exuberant, but it may have overshadowed the fact that South benefitted itself from Greenville's mistakes.

Blake Ambuehl scored for the Warriors in the fourth inning after he singled, moved to second when the Comet's first baseman failed to throw to second when he caught a grounder, and went to third on a wild pitch. Ambuehl scored when Comet third baseman Auchner kicked Greg Linhart's grounder.

Again in the sixth an error allowed South to score twice. Jim Thurman hit a line drive to center, which was dropped by Pat Shea of the Comets.

McFarland and home from third. Thurman advanced to third on a pair of wild pitches, then scored when Ray Jones singled to right.

In all, the Warriors used five different pitchers in the second game, including Tretter.

But in the first game, the Warriors needed only two. Tretter gave up two runs in the first inning, when the Comets' lead off hitters reached and scored on a walk, and two singles.

But after Tretter's initial wildness, he allowed only two batters to reach base, and only one hit. From the last out of the first to the second out of the fifth, Tretter retired 12 batters in a row.

Mike DeGonia, whom Tretter relieved in the second game, came in the seventh inning, and gave up a walk, a double play and a strike-out.

Like the Comets, the Warriors started fast, scoring their first three batters. Stegemeier led off the game with a walk, and was followed by Thurman's mishandled bunt. Jeff Parker drove in Stegemeier with a single to right, and Tretter followed with another single that scored both Parker and Thurman.

A pair of errors and RBI single by South's Jim Lewis accounted for South's three-run fifth inning.

In all, the Warriors scored six runs on four hits and three errors.

OUT OF THE BLOCKS. Madison's Sylvester Collins takes off. He and his teammates finished fourth as a team Saturday in the Mineral

Area Track Meet at Belleville. Collins and his fellow relay team members finished third in both the 440 and 880 yard events. (Press-Record Photo)

Doty pitches two-hitter as Steelers club Roxana, 6-0

By KEVIN ALLEN

of the Press-Record

ROXANA — The Granite City North Steelers, behind impeccable pitching and productive hitting, defeated the Roxana Shells, 6-0 on a frosty spring afternoon in Roxana Friday.

The Steelers kept warm at bat, collecting 10 hits, but North's pitcher Steve Doty didn't allow his teammates a chance to generate much heat in the field.

Doty was completely overpowering, as he struck out 11 Shells, gave up two hits, and allowed only four baserunners as he went the full seven innings.

Steelers coach Bob Stegemeier, contemplating Doty's accomplishments, said, "Eleven strikeouts and two walks; that's a pretty good ratio. I'll take it any day."

Stegemeier was equally as pleased that Doty was able to go the distance, a first for Steelers pitching this season. "I felt like he had had enough work," Stegemeier said. "He wasn't behind many hitters. Before the game I told him he would go as far as he could."

If there was ever any reason for concern about Doty's performance it came in the fourth inning when Tony Cattlett, the Shell's catcher and the only shell to hit safely off Doty, sent a line drive back up the middle.

The ball caught Doty in the chest and caromed toward the second baseman. Cattlett reached first before Doty could retrieve the ball.

"The ball hit him in the chest and thumb," Stegemeier said. "When I went out to see how he was and he told me that, I asked him, 'did it hit you anywhere else?'"

Apparently, the ball didn't hit him in the left arm, or if it did it didn't bother him, because that was the last hit he allowed.

In addition to his impressive pitching, Doty also contributed a hit and scored a run in his three trips to the plate, and figured in both Steeler offensive outbursts.

In the second inning the Steelers scored the only run they would have needed to win. Bob Batey's fly ball to center scored Bob Ford from third, after Ford led off the inning with a double and moved to third on Doty's single to right.

Records set; Steptoe happy

BELLEVILLE — There were several records set here Saturday in the running of the Mineral Area Track Meet. Two meet records were set by East St. Louis, but there was one record Madison Coach Charles Steptoe was proud of.

Earnest Davenport of Madison set a school record when he ran the 22.1 in the 220 yard dash. And he still didn't win the race. He came in second, but that didn't bother Steptoe. "I'm pretty pleased," he said. "Our season is just about half finished now. With the weather as bad as it's been, school records have been the last thing we've been thinking about. But this shows he can do it if conditions are more favorable."

Not only did Davenport set a record in the 220, he won the 440. Steptoe said he's going to have to get strong performances like that from now on. "There are still some of the basketball players who came out late and aren't in shape yet," he said. "We can only give them a little longer."

The meet records set by East St. Louis came in the 330 yard hurdles and the high jump. Steve Brown broke the 330 mark of 38.6 by three-tenths of a second. James Melton broke the high jump mark of 6-6 1/2, when he jumped 6-7.

Madison wins first

TROY — Madison High School's baseball team won its first game of the season here Saturday when it split a doubleheader with Triad, winning 4-3 and losing 5-4.

Barry Reynolds singled for the Trojans in the top of the seventh inning in the first game to give Madison a 4-3 victory.

Ken Briggs went all the way on the mound for Coach John Paskus in recording the Trojans' first victory against two losses.

In the second game, however, Madison's winning streak was halted at one. Triad's Tony Trout proved to be too much for Madison, when he singled in the winning run in the bottom of the eighth to give his team the victory.

Madison had fought from two runs down in the fourth inning to tie the game. Madison suffered the loss despite out-hitting Triad 8-4 in the second game.

Stajduhar throws no-hitter

DALLAS — Tony Stajduhar, a 1976 graduate of Granite City High School, threw a no-hit shutout here last week in the first game of a doubleheader for Dallas Baptist College. DBU won the first game 7-0 and the second 2-0 over Rockford (Texas) College.

It was Stajduhar's second victory of the season. He has since won another game, giving him a perfect 3-0 mark. He has the lowest earned-run average in the Texoma Conference—.050. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Stajduhar, formerly of Granite City.

North girls fall short; South swamped

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City North girls' track team fell just short here Thursday in its effort to upset highly-regarded Mascoutah at North's Field.

Mascoutah won, 68-50. In fact, if not for a false-start disqualification in the 800 yard medley, North could well have upset the Indians.

Clara Bates and Mary Ann Votoupal finished one-two in the 100 yard dash for North. Bates ran it in 12.4 and Votoupal in 13.2.

North also took the 220 yard dash. Steelerette Dana Ellis ran a 30.4. Terri Gieselman was second in 32.2.

In the 440, Gieselman won with a 1:13.4. Teammate Alicia Stone was second at 1:14.

North's powerful distance runner, Bonnie Williams, again won the mile-run with relative ease. She clocked in at 6:17.4 while teammate Toni McCann was second at 6:26.8.

In the field events, North took control. Dawn Ford won the discus throw with a toss of 79 feet, nine inches. Leslie McIntyre was second at 79.9. Ford also won the long jump with a leap of 13 feet, 8 1/2 inches.

At O'Fallon, things weren't quite as close for the Granite City South girls' team. The host Panthers proved to be too much for South.

Put more precisely, Tanya Habermehl was too much for the Warriors. She won as many events individually as South did as a team.

South managed to win just three of the 16 events as it saw its dual meet record drop to 6-2.

Debbie Burnett, Lisa Sarich and Chris Good were the first place finishers for South. Burnett won the mile run in 14:28. Sarich won the shotput with a toss of 33 feet, 11 inches and Good won the 110 yard hurdles in a time of 17.9.

Stegemeier was equally as pleased that Doty was able to go the distance, a first for Steelers pitching this season. "I felt like he had had enough work," Stegemeier said. "He wasn't behind many hitters. Before the game I told him he would go as far as he could."

If there was ever any reason for concern about Doty's performance it came in the fourth inning when Tony Cattlett, the Shell's catcher and the only shell to hit safely off Doty, sent a line drive back up the middle.

The ball caught Doty in the chest and caromed toward the second baseman. Cattlett reached first before Doty could retrieve the ball.

DOUBLES

In fact, Stegemeier is the first to admit he is a traditionalist. "I believe in the old school of baseball," he said. "We try to bunt and run, and be fundamentally sound."

To accomplish these ends

Stegemeier attempts to teach his players using a calm approach. But he said that he doesn't always remain patient.

"You could characterize me as a Jekyll and Hyde," he said. "I try to stay low key most of the time. And I think I'm mellowing with age."

"I think I'm understanding young kids more. I think you probably accomplish more if you stay calm."

Stegemeier is assisted by

played both against and with

Parker and believes that both share the same ideas about the game.

"I really have to give him a lot of credit," Stegemeier said. "He played professional ball and his brother Harry Parker played for the Cardinals, so he knows the game. Between the two of us we try to be fundamentally sound."

Stegemeier also played professional baseball in the 1950s. He played in the minor leagues at Charleston,

W.Va., San Jose, Calif., and

New Orleans, between a stint in the majors and his pursuit of a degree at Rice

University.

He started teaching at

Wilson elementary school in Granite City in 1959. He moved to Granite South in 1966 where he coached baseball and football, then went to North in 1973 as a head baseball coach and assistant football coach.

"I enjoy coaching both sports, but being a head coach is more exciting,"

Stegemeier said.

For the past few seasons

Stegemeier has been faced with something of a conflict of interests when North and South meet and re-establish their cross-town rivalry.

A basketball poem

Dear Sports Editor:

Recently I had the chance to see the Venice vs. Madison basketball contest held at Freeburg. I was very much impressed by it all. The enclosed poem is a result of that experience. If you would like to publish this poem under my name I would be very pleased to see it in the Press-Record.

MADISON BEDEVILED
You've got good men with so few to choose and better yet
you rarely lose.

It's quite exciting

STIEG TO OLE MISS
NASHVILLE — All-star Roger Stieg, who led Nashville High to the 1978 Illinois Class A basketball title, has announced he will attend the University of Mississippi next fall. Stieg, a 6-7 forward, signed a 10-team Conference let of intent Monday.

to watch your plight with a team of players in red and white.

Young boys that scamper and rub the court
you fouled them often but you stayed in sorts.

Your opponents were rib-bing,
your fans did shout,
you didn't give up and you didn't pull out.

It's a game of skill,
a young man's dream
to dribble that ball to be top team.

The score was close the air — hot,
the refs unwilling,
the ball uncaught.

Though the game was lost you're no outcast rebel but a determined and eager young Venice Red Devil.

McKendree honors Venice's Mike Henry

LEBANON — An outstanding senior member of McKendree College's basketball team was honored during halftime ceremonies at the Bearcat vs. Missouri Baptist game February 24.

Mike Henry from Venice was awarded the Louis F. Vesely Scholarship Award by Vesely's widow, Mrs. Alice Cakora and son, Mac. The scholarship is awarded annually in memory of Louis Vesely, who served as basketball coach at McKendree from 1963-66 and died after a five-year battle with Hodgkin's Disease. The award is given to an outstanding basketball player who has exhibited high quality of character on and off the basketball court and shows acceptable academic achievement and promise of future usefulness.

He was named the team's most valuable player during his freshman year at Lincoln Trail and was named to the All-State junior college team his sophomore season.

His list of credentials goes on... at Venice High School, he was a member of the State champion Red Devil basketball team where he graduated in 1975. Henry received numerous honors at Venice, being named to the All-Area team; several All-State teams; the All-State tournament team; and receiving a Scholar-Athlete award.

6 on ballot for 3 board positions in Madison

PAUL BARGIEL

Running Saturday for a three-year Madison School Board term, Paul Bargiel was elected a year ago to an unexpired term of one year. He is 35 and resides at 1434 Sixth St.

"I am married to the former Pamela Hinson and we have two children, Kathy, age 13, and Susan, 8, who attend Madison schools. "I have long been interested in the community where I was born, raised, and continue to reside. "I attended Madison schools and have taken various courses at Belleville Area College, the University of Illinois Police Training Institute, and the St. Louis Police Academy.

"I have been an instructor for the law enforcement program at Lewis and Clark Community College," Bargiel relates. "I am employed by the City of Madison as a detective on the police department, a position I've held since 1971.

"I joined the Madison Police Department in March 1976 after working for Madison County Sheriff's Department four years and attaining the rank of lieutenant. "I am a candidate because of my interest in children and the community. "My daily activities keep me in close contact with the community, and aware of problems and needs. I am for a back-to-basics system of education, with special attention given to special education and vocational programs.

"I seek to promote more citizen input into our educational system and extracurricular activities. "I will work closely with the administration and citizens for the betterment of our school system," Bargiel says.

"I have been a board member for the past year. "During this time, I feel the district has made great strides in getting higher interest for the district's needs and economizing without cuts in the educational program.

"The past year has been a learning experience and has helped make me now qualified. "If re-elected, I hope to expand our educational program, and seek still more community involvement and student participation.

An identical bill that passed the Illinois House is yet to be voted on by the Senate.

Sen. Frank M. Ozinga (R, Evergreen Park) asserted that "in the St. Louis, area, half of the seventh to eleventh graders are drinking, and seven percent are alcoholics."

Senate President Philip Rock (D, Chicago) disagreed and said men and women old enough to marry should be allowed to drink. Sen. James Gitz (D, Freeport) said that if 19-year-olds can join the armed forces, they should be able to have "a glass of wine."

BOSTON EVACUATED Boston, Mass., was evacuated by the British under General Howe, on March 17, 1776.

CHESTER L. McMANAWAY

Chester L. McManaway, 64, of 1081 Second St., who has served on the Madison School Board for 24 years, is seeking a ninth three-year term Saturday.

Owner of the McManaway Real Estate and Insurance Agency, he has formerly served as school board president for an extended period. A lifelong Quad-Citizen, he has resided in Madison except for brief periods in Venice and Granite City.

He was Madison city treasurer from 1948 to 1949 and was secretary of the Madison playground and recreation board from 1949 to 1953.

McManaway attended Madison schools and graduated in 1933 from Madison High School. He attended Washington University and Southern Illinois University.

Active in the First Baptist Church of Madison, he was a tractor-trailer driver for Hayes Freight Lines seven years, a life insurance agent for the Metropolitan firm five years and an Illinois Terminal Railroad conductor six years.

McManaway is the father of Mrs. Nancy Rainer of Granite City. He believes Madison school policies have achieved a high degree of stability during times of rapid change.

Noting that new pupils sometimes have difficulty changing from their home environment to the classrooms, McManaway favors the neighborhood school concept for kindergarten through the third grade.

Current construction of a sixth-seventh-eighth grades school is cited as among the board's accomplishments.

He is married and the father of five daughters.

John Dohal, 1964 Sixth St., is running for the Madison School Board on Saturday. A Cities Service Oil Co. employee, he serves his union as chairman of the grievance committee and member of the contract and negotiating committee.

The candidate served in Korea in 1959-61 as a fire team leader with the Army's 4th Cavalry. He is a past cubmaster of St. Mary's Cub Pack 47 and serves on the pack and Troop 47 committees.

Dohal is a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church and the St. Mary's Holy Knights of Columbus Council 1098, St. Stanislaus Lodge (25 years) and the Polish Hall. Past president of Union Local 1952, he is manager-coach of the Polish Hall soccer team and previously managed Mary's boys' baseball teams.

He is married to the former Kathy Orris. They have four children, Vincent and Steve, who attend Madison High School, and Brian and Lisa, who attend St. Mary's.

JAMES E. NEWSOME

James Edward Newsome Sr., 1629 Market St., Madison, is one of six candidates for three Madison School Board positions Saturday.

He is 34 and a local resident in 20 years. He and his wife, Lucille, have two children, Derrick, 13, and James Jr., 11. A detective sergeant on the Madison County Sheriff Dept. for six years, Newsome is a 1963 graduate of Madison High School.

He attended Belleville Area College for a year in 1974 and attended McKendree College two years, 1976-78.

He studied administration of justice and plans to register in the fall of 1979 to complete requirements for a bachelor degree in administration of justice.

"Being a resident of District 12 for the past 20 years, I feel that I would be a dependable representative of the people in the school district.

If elected, I will take the responsibilities and duties of a school board member seriously and will help promote better cooperation among the members of the board, the teachers and the community."

Man is stabbed; seek assailant John Meader, 19, of 1615 Pontoon Road, is in satisfactory condition following surgery at St. Elizabeth Medical Center after being stabbed at 11:04 p.m. Saturday.

Meader and a friend were driving south on National avenue and, as they approached 2770 National Ave., two cars were parked side by side with about six persons standing near the cars. An argument ensued after Meader asked the other drivers to move their vehicles.

Craig J. Argent, 28, of 3606 Ruth Drive, allegedly grabbed a lug wrench and began beating the Meader car. When Meader got out of the auto, another young man allegedly displayed a folding knife and stabbed Meader in the stomach. Meader was taken by ambulance to the medical center.

Argent allegedly left the scene. Later apprehended in the 1500 block of Clark Avenue, he was charged with criminal damage to property.

Meader underwent surgery for a stab wound to his mid-abdomen and is recuperating. Granite City police said they have not yet determined the identity of the person who stabbed him, and plan to question several persons today.

DONALD E. GARRETT

Donald E. Garrett, who is seeking re-election as a Fifth Ward alderman in Madison, also is running Saturday for a position on the Board of Education of Madison Community Unit School District Nine.

Venice Township Precinct Five Democratic committeeman, Garrett has three children, aged 15, 11 and nine. He also ran for the School Board in 1976.

Garrett comments, "There is only one reason for the existence of any School Board. That reason is to insure that children of school age residing within the district boundaries receive a quality education.

"Somewhere along the way, some members of the Madison Board seem to have been sidetracked and become involved in politics, patronage and personal power.

"I am, therefore, a candidate for the Madison Board of Education because I want to return the board to its primary function of the quality education of its children.

"Specifically, I would institute four moves which would undoubtedly insure that the job is being done. "First, I would return the job of running the district back to the teachers and the administrators, and give them a free hand in all policy and decisions affecting education.

"Members of the board are not educators, but overseers and temporary caretakers of the public trust, and should conduct themselves only as such.

"I would also give the teachers themselves a lot more input into the administration of school policy. Too many administrators seem out of touch, and many of the teachers could probably teach them how to do their jobs.

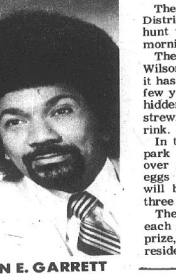

"Secondly, I would involve the district in full-scale competency testing. A law enacted last year in Illinois requires the State Board of Education by Dec. 15, 1978, to prepare procedures and materials to encourage and assist local school districts to develop minimal competency testing programs.

"Although the law is voluntary, it is one way we can begin to hold administrators, teachers and the students themselves accountable, and know exactly where our district stands in terms of providing quality education.

"Thirdly, I will do everything to develop more academic discipline in students. I would, first of all, return the curriculum back to an emphasis on the basics. I would impress upon students that school is one of the major experiences and opportunities of their lives—

Egg hunt Saturday at Wilson Park rink

The Granite City Park District's annual Easter egg hunt will be held Saturday morning, April 14.

The hunt is planned for the Wilson Park ice rink, where it has been held for the past few years. The eggs will be hidden in straw that is strewn about the floor of the rink.

In the past few days, the park office staff has filled over 2,500 colored plastic eggs with jelly beans that will be divided among the three age groups.

There are many prizes in each group. To qualify for a prize, the child must be a resident of the park district.

that, without school, their plans for the future are in doubt, perhaps impossible to achieve.

"Students must learn to view school, not as a necessary evil, but as a priceless opportunity.

"Fourthly, I will do everything humanly possible to insure that parents involved in the problems and operations of their school system, and in the learning process of the student.

"Presently, the only information parents have concerning their schools and its operation comes from news media reports of board meetings. This communication problem is the fault of the board itself.

"Perhaps many members of the board relish keeping parents ignorant and uninformed. But better informed parents are vital elements in delivering quality education to their children.

"I would resolve this problem by publishing a weekly newsletter informing parents of every facet of school operation, from curriculum changes and examination date to job openings in the district. This newsletter would either be published in the pages of the local news media, or in a pamphlet prepared and mailed, whichever is lower cost to the taxpayer.

"The Madison Library Board has for years, under its able leadership, published an effective bulletin despite the fact that the Library Board operates within the confines of a very limited budget. Surely, the school board with all the taxpayers' money it wastes can do the same.

"Also, I would involve the parents in the learning process of the student through individual conferences which would include discussing test scores, recommended remedial teaching, and other necessary concerns.

"Public schools are among the most important institutions in our community, and it is time that parents, community leaders, businessmen and students involved themselves fully in the process, not just in name, but in fact.

"If anyone doubts my sincerity in representing people, then ask the people in Ward Five, or better yet, pay us a visit and look at how much the community has improved. Check my performance at City Council meetings.

"Visit our senior citizen center and talk to the citizens there. Talk to other community leaders. You'll get the same answers everywhere—Don Garrett represents the community, not a party. He represents people, not politicians."

WARREN DECATUR YOUR ALDERMAN—4TH WARD PAID FOR BY WARREN DECATUR

Each child must bring his or her own container for the eggs.

Times for the various groups to be at the rink Saturday are: First graders, 9 a.m.; kindergarten children, 10:15 a.m.; and pre-schoolers, 11 a.m.

Granite City's Bonnie Bramlett appeared with rock musician Stephen Stills in concerts last night at Kiel Basins House. The local singer has performed with many of the best known music artists.

No new clues are reported in the investigation of the slaying of Ronald A. Cuswell, 33, Edwardsville, who was shot through the heart and suffered a skull fracture. He had been missing since leaving work at a Wood River refinery March 31, and his body was found April 4 in the back seat of his car, parked for several days in an East St. Louis parking lot. Services were held Saturday at a Bethalto funeral home. There is no apparent link with the slaying of his parents, Arthur and Vernita, who were shot in the head in their Edwardsville home Nov. 3, 1977.

The Illinois House Judiciary Committee approved Thursday a bill to require written contracts between unmarried couples in instances where one is able to sue the other for monetary settlement after the relationship has ended.

Golf journey LEBANON — The Bearcat Booster organization announced that applications for the 9th annual McKendree College Golf Classic are being accepted.

The tournament will be held Saturday, May 5 at Locust Hills Country Club in Lebanon, Illinois. A raindate has been slated for May 6. There will be five flights, trophies, golf and attendance prizes and closest-to-the-hole competition.

Entry fee for the McKendree College Golf Classic is $20 per person and proceeds go to the Bearcat Booster Athletic Fund.

Plan before you plant!

Before you plant a new tree around your home consider these points:

- Will the roots damage the foundation of your home, or damage the house sewer tile?
- Will branches brush cars using the driveway, or obstruct a driver's vision?
- As the tree grows will branches drag across the roof and drop leaves in the gutter, or come dangerously close to your house?
- Is the tree you have selected a clean, long-lived tree with strong branching? (Fast-growing trees are usually weak-wooded and short-lived trees that scatter dead limbs on your yard.)
- Will the tree provide shade where you want it? (Too much shade will weaken or kill out grass.)
- Will it soon grow into electric power wires and endanger service to yourself and your neighbors? (Over 90% of power failures occur when strong winds or sleet storms send branches and wires crashing through power lines.)
- Will you damage your underground gas or electric service line if you dig a hole for a new tree or bush? Call your Illinois Power office for assistance. We'll be glad to let you know where our underground lines are located near your home.

Plan before you plant—and your new trees will give you many years of enjoyment.

See your nurseryman.

The Lighter Side

The day Miss Klutz took over

How sophisticated are you?

Let me tell you that whenever I try to show a little class, Miss Klutz takes over my entire body.

Miss Klutz's latest adventure took place when I went to have lunch at the local "in" spot. You know, one of those places where no one minds how much things cost.

Well, my friend Karen is one of the "in" crowd and she asked me to have lunch with her. I suggested a burger joint I knew of, but she insisted on her regular hangout.

I arrived first, being forever punctual. Karen was late, as is her custom.

I remember thinking as I walked in the door, "So this is where the upper crust hangs out." I had a total of 36 cents on my person, so I was delighted that the lunch was to be Karen's treat.

The first thing I noticed as we took out seats was that there were entirely too many utensils on the table. Forks, spoons and knives were just all over. I had about six pieces. I guess they were expecting me to drop a lot of forks.

Miss Klutz made her first appearance as I tried to be "cool" with the cream and sugar for my coffee. Just a little mess, one that was covered by a convenient napkin.

Karen didn't notice. She was too busy being noticed.

People kept coming up to the table to say hello to my popular friend and I was introduced to some of the beautiful people.

Good ol' Miss Klutz managed to have her mouth full of food every time one of the biggies was introduced. I did a lot of nodding. How else does one acknowledge another when the mouth is occupied?

No one noticed when I nearly fell down the stairs or when the carpet tried to attack me. I was lucky.

I fear that being one of the "in" crowd just won't work out for me. Miss Klutz simply has too much influence.

I really must take the Klutz in hand, be assertive and make her take a back seat.

Anyone know of a good charm school?

AGENTS REQUESTED

Congress requested agents in Europe to recruit qualified foreign military experts; the result on March 13, 1977, was an influx of soldiers of fortune, few of whom made any worthwhile contribution to the American cause.

Funds Invested at local banks

State Treasurer Jerry Cosentino has announced that his office will be allocating a total of $376.8 million in state deposits to 879 banks in Illinois this month.

Average interest yield in the competitive bidding for these deposits was just over 9.88 percent, the highest in history, Cosentino reported.

For the first time, the state treasurer offered state banks the option of bidding for deposits of either six months or one year on April 1.

Cosentino said he heeded the advice of professionals in offering the six-month deposit option in order to maintain geographical distribution of funds and continued participation by many Downstate banks.

A total of 280 banks chose to bid for six months. Their average interest bid was 9.883 percent. First Granite City National Bank obtained $515,000 and the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, $350,000.

Of the 599 banks participating is up by 57 from the basic deposit allocations of a year ago.

Cosentino said the year-ago bid on $351 million one-year deposits was 7.4 percent. In the October allocation of funds in the Community Service Program, the average interest climbed over 8.5 percent — the first time the average yield on a fund allocation went over 8 percent since 1974.

After peaking at 8.240 percent with the Sept. 1, 1974, allocation, interest rates paid on state deposits slipped as low as 5.617 percent in April 1977.

Kindergarten registration

In announcing registration dates for next year's kindergarten classes, District Nine School Superintendent B. J. Davis today urged the cooperation of all parents of children who will start kindergarten in September.

Registration of all such children this spring will enable the school district to anticipate more accurately both the space and personnel needed. Three schools are being closed but will conduct registration.

Kindergarten classes are half-day sessions and are held at each local elementary school.

A birth certificate is to be presented at the time of registration, and must be presented before actual attendance can begin in the fall.

Illinois law states that no child may enter school for the first time without the following immunizations: whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus, poliomyelitis, rubella (measles) and rubella (3-day measles). Exceptions are made only for religious or medical reasons.

Physical and dental examinations are also required before attendance in kindergarten may begin. These forms are distributed to parents at the time of registration so that appointments for the exams can be arranged during the summer.

State nurses will be available at the time of registration to explain health regulations to parents.

Registration days at the various elementary schools are as follows:

Monday, April 16: Lake, Logan, Maryview and Parkview.

Tuesday, April 17: Frohardt, Johnson, McKinley and Washington.

Wednesday, April 18: Emerson, Marshall, Mitchell and Wilson.

Thursday, April 19: Nameoki, Niedringhaus, Stallings and Webster.

Registration will be from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 2:30 p.m. on the designated day.

The child being registered should accompany the parent. Any questions concerning the registration can be answered by the principal of the neighborhood elementary school or by Vasil Eftimoff, director of pupil personnel services at the Board of Education office (876-6600).

Pre-School Center registration will be conducted during the same time as kindergarten registration. The only difference in requirements is the child will be four years of age on or before Dec. 31, 1978.

Students presently enrolled in Pre-School are not required to fill out registration forms, but they will need to attend at this time for testing at their regular schools.

Pre-school students who are absent will be tested by the remedial reading teachers at the Pre-School Center on April 20.

The six elementary buildings qualifying for the Pre-School Program are: Emerson, Marshall, Logan, Washington, McKinley and Webster.

The following schools will host registration teas this year with Board of Education members present:

April 15: Parkview a.m. April 17: Frohardt a.m.; McKinley p.m.

April 19: Webster p.m. Purpose of the registration teas is to give board members the opportunity to discuss mutual concerns of the school district with parents.

The teas follow the board election, which is April 14.

Peace treaty can lead to much Mideast progress—Schermer

History-making events concerning the peace treaty signed between Egypt and Israel were heralded as of great significance by Leo Schermer, guest speaker of the Madison-Venice Rotary Club last week.

"After 30 years of constant fighting and four major wars, the signing of the peace treaty was a historic event which will affect the entire world and hopefully bring a lasting peace between all men," Schermer said.

"Even though all the Arab nations at first have threatened Egypt over the peace treaty, there is some real, positive progress being made."

"The questions in the Middle-East are complex and hard to understand, for those who do not really know the various cultures of the people."

"Within 90 days, Israel will give up half of the Sinai and in nine months will make another withdrawal to the Gaza," Schermer said.

"The Sinai Peninsula was in the northeast United Arab Republic at the north end of the Red Sea, between the gulf of Suez and Aqaba. It is 230 miles long and has been occupied by Israel since 1967."

"The Gaza Strip is a coastal area on the western Mediterranean Sea adjacent to southwestern Israel."

"There are over one million Palestinians in the Sinai and Samaria living very well in the West Bank. Most are educated and skilled and most are employed by the Israelis in areas where construction is booming," Schermer said.

"Juda is the Biblical kingdom of the Hebrews in South Palestine. Samaria is a district in ancient Palestine, now in Jordan, and part of the northern kingdom of the ancient Hebrews."

"The Palestinians are living well with many advantages, but in their minds they feel they cannot make their own decisions because of Israel," the Schermer Brothers Market executive said.

"Arafat (militant leader of the Palestinians) has gained a lot of prestige in the Middle East."

"The average Israelis are victims of the Nazi holocaust and they do not want to allow this to ever happen again. Arafat is making proclamations in the Mideast like Hitler did in Europe."

"The statement that he would chop off the hands of all those, including President Carter, who signed the peace treaty," Schermer noted.

"One of the problems we don't read about much is the population growth in the area. Israelis have families that generally are limited to one or two children."

"The Palestinians have large families as a rule. The population will soon be equal and might end up with the Israelis in the minority."

"Peace in the area could have an untold favorable effect for the three million people, who could use the millions of dollars now being spent on implements of war. They could use the money for peace."

"The opportunities are great in the area. The soil is tillable, the people have production knowhow, and the money is there and available for peace," Schermer said.

"Air routes are being opened immediately between Egypt and Israel, and in about two months there will be land routes, and commerce should begin to flourish."

"Despite the many drawbacks of Pres. Carter, he must be commended for his work in the Mideast. Without his constant pressure on Begin and Sadat, the peace treaty would not have been signed," Schermer concluded.

Training on metrics and other topics

The Consortium of Vocational Educators will sponsor three training seminars on the evening of April 24 at the Holiday Inn at Edwardsville (1-270 and Route 157) beginning at 6:30 p.m. Topics will be "applied metrics," "educational basics" and "personal service opportunities."

Each of the topics will be presented twice, from 6:30 to 7:30 and again from 7:45 to 8:45, to allow individuals to hear two of the presentations.

COVEE promotes communications and cooperation between educators and employers in Southwestern Illinois. The seminar is free and open to the public, but reservations are required by April 20 at 344-4250.

Girl Scouts attend party

Girl Scout Troop 275 of Niedringhaus School attended an Easter party last week given by leaders Faye Nodine and Sandi Hargrove. The festivities followed a short meeting during which the girls made plans and practices for coming events. The scouts were served hot dogs, cupcakes and drinks. Each girl was given an Easter basket and favor, while a discussion of the history of the Easter holiday was held.

Those attending were, Shelly Boaz, Cindy Bridle, Kathy Carter, Rhana Cook, Loretta Cox, Vivian Gilleland, Dawn Justice, Claudia Kachigian, Cindy Lancaster, Tammy Lemons, Jennifer McNeilly, Carrie Naeve, Monica Nodine, Kim Schellingberger, Shelly Senezyn, Jannette Stacy, Mary Taylor, Elizabeth Tretter, Cindy Weible, Julie Hargrove and Erin Stacy. The troop also participated in a skate party sponsored by Neighborhood 4 at Stardust skate rink. More than 200 girls were invited to the event which was in honor of Girl Scout Week.

3 Madison Ward One hopefuls

PAUL ASHFORD

Alderman Paul E. Ashford is the candidate of the Progressive Government Party for First Ward alderman in Madison April 17.

He is 61 and lives at 1630 Third St.

His wife passed away in January 1972. Alderman from May 1971 to the present, he also served from November 1970 to May 1971 as a police commissioner of Madison.

From 1940 until retiring in 1976, Ashford worked at Swift & Company, where he was active in union affairs. He held the positions of head shop steward, chairman of the board of trustees and political representative of Union Local 78.

The World War II veteran served 40 months overseas with the Army Corps of Engineers.

"After being discharged from the Army, I studied business administration at SIU in East St. Louis. I graduated from Madison High School in 1936," the candidate says.

He is a member of American Legion Post 307, Annets Post 204 and the Madison City Organization.

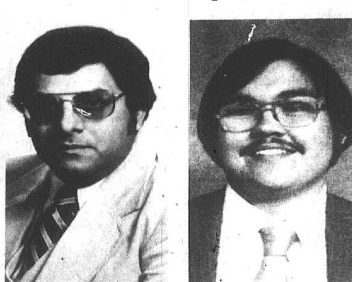

"My educational background, activity in Union Local 78 for approximately 25 years and service to the residents in Ward One as their alderman for the past eight years show my qualifications. I am familiar with city government rules, regulations and procedures."

"I believe in honest, capable, dependable and efficient government."

"I am in favor of the continual upgrading of the City of Madison, by both the city administration and the individual businesses and homeowners."

"I feel the most crucial problem for any municipality today is inflation, and I will continue to practice financial responsibility for the citizens of Madison," Ashford concludes.

MIGUEL GARCIA

Miguel E. (Mike) Garcia is an independent candidate for Madison First Ward alderman.

Garcia is 35, and resides at 1510 Fifth St. with his wife, Gloria, and two children, Rebecca and Michael.

He received his education at local schools and graduated from Madison High School in 1967. He served four years and three months as a flight medical technician in the Air Force and was honorably discharged in 1967. He spent two years in the Illinois Army National Guard, receiving an honorable discharge in 1973.

Garcia attended SIU at Edwardsville for 3½ years, during that time participating in research project of the Veterans of Vietnam and working in the Madison County Tax Department as an investigator.

He then worked three years for the Urban League as an employment recruiter and counselor.

Garcia is a past member of the board of directors and projects committee of the Granite City Jaycees, southmaster of St. Mary's Troop 47, and member of American Legion Posts 307 and 113, Mexican Honorary Commission, Madison Lions Club and Central Democratic Club of Madison County.

He is active in St. Mary's Boosters.

He has served in elective and appointive positions as president of the Madison County Young Democrats (2 terms), regional director of the Young Democrats of Illinois and national vice-chairman of the Minority Caucus of the Young Democrats of America.

Garcia was appointed and served on a task force for Hispanics of Illinois by former Governor Daniel Walker.

He was appointed and served as a board member of the Madison County Manpower Program, and served as a legislative aide to former State Representative Joe Lucco.

Garcia is presently employed as a foreman at Consolidated Aluminum Corp. in Madison.

Garcia says, "I feel the First Ward and the City of Madison need a change in leadership and ideas."

"Citizens of Madison have a right to live, work and walk in the city without the fear of injury or loss of property to themselves or to their loved ones."

ROY JACKSON

Running in Ward One on April 17, Alan "Roy" Jackson, 22, is the youngest aldermanic candidate in Madison.

"Born in Granite City, I have resided at 1538 Second Street for 22 years. I attended Madison grade schools and graduated from Madison High School in 1976," Jackson says.

"While attending high school, I started into the photography business, opening a retail store, Jackson Photo Center."

"The store is currently located in the First Ward at 1437 Third St. I am a member and a past treasurer of the Madison-Venice Rotary Club."

"I also instruct the Belleville Area College extension photography course at Madison High School. I am a member of the Madison Business Association."

"I have a sincere interest in keeping Madison a good place to live, work, and transact business."

"I feel that I can do an excellent job of serving the interest of the people. Since I spend most of my time at my store, I am easily accessible to residents wishing to contact their alderman."

"Jackson continues, 'I feel a city should be run like a business—a new way of funding should be discovered to expand essential services while keeping taxes at a minimum.'"

"I also feel that the police department is understaffed and needs expansion. The residents of Madison need and deserve an ambulance operated by the fire department."

"It is time for a change. I want to be the voice of the people. If I am elected, I will speak to the city for the people, because the people will have spoken to me."

"We have a right to demand the enforcement of city ordinances such as litter, leash, health and zoning laws, in order to maintain property values."

"Madison has been a leader in services to senior citizens and others, but with new and fresh ideas it could expand those services."

"With good salaries, adequate manpower and first-class equipment, the Police Department, Fire Department and Street Department can provide a safe, clean and beautiful city to work and live in."

Formidable opponents likely in '80 Senate election

Press-Record Washington Bureau
—The decision by Sen. Adlai Stevenson, D-Ill., not to seek re-election in 1980 has saddened some Republicans in the Illinois Congressional delegation. Their sorrow is not purely a reflection of bi-partisan friendship.

It is a feeling that Stevenson would have been easier to beat than the Democrats' Senate nomination.

Dixon, whose dynamism contrasts sharply with Stevenson's low-key personality, has a track record which gives the GOP pachyderm an elephantine case of nerves. Dixon won the secretary of state's office in 1976 by rolling up a 1.34 million plurality over Senate Republican leader William Harris.

In his re-election campaign last year against Republican Sharon Sharp, Dixon rewrote three Illinois records: —His plurality of nearly 1.52 million votes topped that of any candidate for his state office.

—He was the first Democratic candidate to carry every county in the state.

—He was the first candidate of either party to carry every ward and township in Cook County.

That sort of record tends to jangle GOP nerves, already shaky at the possibility their leading candidate for the nomination, Atty. Gen. William Scott, could be further hassled for alleged mishandling of campaign funds in the past.

To be sure, Stevenson also has a good track record, winning the Senate in 1970 with 58 percent of the vote and re-election in 1974 with 63 percent. But there is a feeling here he has fallen from grace with the electorate.

"A year ago, I would have said Adlai was a strong candidate for re-election but he has been slipping since then," said Rep. Tom Corcoran, R-Ottawa. "He has not been spending much time back in the state. He has been pinned down in Washington by his role as ethics committee chairman. You do not get much more when you are forced, as Adlai was, to remain here doing important but not very exciting legislative work."

Rep. Paul Findley, R-Pittsfield, is a Stevenson admirer who had flirted occasionally with the idea of making a try for the Senate himself. He thinks Stevenson is not exiting out of fear of being unseated. While he rates Stevenson as formidable, he looks upon Dixon as being even tougher.

"Alan Dixon is running hot and heavy already," Findley said. "He is one of the most spectacular vote-getters Illinois has ever had." House Minority Whip Bob Michel usually gives the edge to incumbents because they have taxpayer-paid perquisites of office for getting their name, faces and ideas across to the public. But he thinks Dixon could be as tough, and as possible a tougher, as Michel has an office from which to campaign.

Incumbency is not a total plus. Stevenson, if he had sought re-election as a Democratic member of Congress, could be held accountable by his GOP opponent for the ills besetting the nation.

Dixon's problem is within his own party. If he is elected to the Senate, Republican Gov. James Thompson will name a successor to serve out his term. Probably those nearly 4,000 jobs would be put under the stewardship of a Republican appointee.

Although Civil Service protects many of those jobholders and mutes political strings as common as the air, there still are Illinois politics. Dixon still has a selling job to do with those in his own party who are concerned about patronage.

Reports voting pressure tactics

To the Editor:

I would like to comment on the City of Madison's so called Progressive Government Party, a political machine consisting of the leaders and yes men.

As unthinkable as it is in this day and age, the machine still uses strong-arm tactics. In an attempt to get their candidates' signs up, they'll stop at nothing — from erecting signs without permission to calling in old favors, such as city department jobs.

I'm surprised these supposedly well-educated men believe mere signs away voters to their candidates.

I pray that the citizen's of Madison soon realize elections should not be won through intimidation. The machine should also realize that a person's vote is important to be used to repay petty favors.

I still have hope in the political future of the machine with the continuing situation and the people's willingness to allow it to go on, the machine only gains power.

Voters, let me no one, no matter what his position, pressure you into throwing your vote away. I am for a truly progressive government in Madison.

Problems and progress ahead

To the Editor:

The voters need to take special notice of the upcoming election for Village of Pontoon Beach officials on April 17.

In my past experience as a public official and chairman of the Madison County Sewer Program, I have learned that long-winded speeches and printed material do not necessarily make a candidate the best person for the job.

Government today is complicated and demanding on an official, and even though he may have the best intentions, he could make the whole area fall flat on its face.

We are now in the beginning stages of a $20 million sewer program in Pontoon Beach. This means that we must live with a few unsightly problems for a while, but we can expect good sewers, better drainage, new streets and improved landscaping by 1980.

The Village of Pontoon Beach is expected to grow and prosper from this sewer program, along with the shell, Venice Township and the Port District.

We need officials that are dedicated and experienced, people who own property, owners in the village and people that understand the Madison County Sewer Program at this very important time of our lives. The group that has participated with us in the past has named its party appropriately, "The Continued Community Development Party," with Paul Bennett for president, Gary Warren as clerk, and Keith Biggs, Loren "Kentuck" Madison and Glen Wilson for trustees.

These are the people we need. They recognize our changing problems.

The other party sounds good on paper and good in the past, but believe me, Donald, David, Doc and Dick are not thinking when they make promises for changes that will cost money. Who will pay for these changes?

Doc served two terms on the Village Board in the past and it was difficult for him to fit the job into his busy schedule. When he was asked these kids out of the pipeline just to keep it from getting clogged. That's just not good enough.

I have a lot to say about your parents and grandparents, as well as my own, live on fixed incomes. Yet, always these men like Paul Simon, Ab Mikva, Dan Rostenkowski, George Dunne, John Touhy, Cecil Taylor and Tony Scarnano, can work within my own

Dixon cites legislative experience

To the Editor:

I present to you and to the people of Illinois my statement of candidacy for the United States Senate. I hope to carry the torch that has been carried before me by some of the great men of Illinois in my party.

Men like Paul Douglas, Adlai Stevenson, the governor, Adlai Stevenson, the senator, Men of stature, men whose children have integrity. Men devoted to the public service.

A person should not be afraid to reach, to aspire to the best that is in him.

I owe my best to the people of this state. To my family.

To my friends and colleagues. To myself.

U.S. senator is a noble calling and the legislative process has always been my passion. I was a state representative, a state senator and a Senate leader for two decades. My imprint is on Illinois law.

This sovereign state, this great nation, this world need leadership. I have been said that leaders have two major characteristics. First, they are headed somewhere. Second, they can persuade others to go with them. I think that I have demonstrated that ability.

I have the vision to see the future of this state. In all my years of government service in Illinois, as a representative, senator, treasurer and secretary of state, I have always used good old-fashioned common sense.

Hope sense, my father used to call it. And you know what? It works. I think we could use a little more of that in Washington, don't you?

I know, for example, that if youngsters can't read, then they can't fill out job applications or answer want ads. They can't do mathematics or geography or go on to college. Yet, we process these kids out of the pipeline just to keep it from getting clogged. That's just not good enough.

I know, for example, that your parents and grandparents, as well as my own, live on fixed incomes. Yet, always these men like Paul Simon, Ab Mikva, Dan Rostenkowski, George Dunne, John Touhy, Cecil Taylor and Tony Scarnano, can work within my own inflation. And while it may be outrageous that we're facing a dollar a gallon gasoline prices, what to do about it positively is another matter.

In the past few days our TV sets have shown us the horrors of Harrisburg. We've seen those forces at work.

We've reacted to the dangers with shock, as mothers and children have fled, and we don't know what to do about it.

I will make this question of nuclear safety another of my priorities because it isn't just a Pennsylvania problem. It's an Illinois problem. It's an American problem.

There are still other critical problems. How do we stimulate this economy — to get us back to where the priorities mean something? To find jobs for people so they can spend or save those dollars as they see fit?

To be able to look at and buy a home that is not out of reach? Send a youngster to college? Buy a family car?

I vividly that Harry Truman always insisted that the American people could forge a better life only when interest rates were low. Harry Truman was right.

I want to do everything in my power as a U.S. senator to slow this runaway inflation so we can put the Federal Reserve Board in position to lower the interest rates. We've got to relieve the burdens of the overburdened.

United States senators cast the votes that affect our lives on a day-to-day basis — taxes, world peace, economic policies, inflation, energy, health care, the very quality of urban and rural life.

As my campaign progresses, I shall discuss each of these issues. There will be no doubt where I stand. I don't believe there ever has been any doubt, in my campaign I've ever wavered.

The people who know me know that I get things done. I am a legislator, administratively.

From my earliest days in the General Assembly, I sat alongside men like Paul Simon, Ab Mikva, Dan Rostenkowski, George Dunne, John Touhy, Cecil Taylor and Tony Scarnano. I can work within my own party and with my Republican colleagues to enact good, tough, responsible legislation. I always have.

I want to bring jobs to Illinois. I want to bring us every cent of federal funds that is our due. We pay a lot of money to Washington. We should get more of it back.

And we can do something about those twin terrors of the federal bureaucracy: waste and mismanagement. They can be cut in an intelligent way. I favor the scalpel, not the meat axe.

I have already cut my own budget and that's a major accomplishment during these times of soaring costs.

The Office of Secretary of State has a budget this year that is more than a million dollars less than last year. I am the only state elected official to come before the people of Illinois with a request for less money than last year.

Less money. Not more. I'm proud of that.

By 1981, when senatorial elections are taking place, I will have served the equivalent of a full four-year term as secretary of state. This is the result of a unique two-year term imposed by the 1970 Illinois Constitution.

Even now, and certainly by that time, I will have accomplished everything I promised the citizens of Illinois.

My campaign slogan was "Alan Dixon is a keeper" — a keeper of his promises.

I have never believed in over-promising, yet, I believe that what you promise, you must deliver. I've always tried to deliver.

I have kept faith with the people of Illinois.

I've said many times that I believe, as public officials, we serve people, not geography. I want to be senator to every citizen of this state.

I have been to all 102 counties of Illinois — many times.

I promise you this: I will give you my head, my heart and all my energies. I will work for you. I will fight for you. I will give it everything I have.

You have said to me, through the ballot box, that you have believed me, and believed in me. I have not let you down. I will not let you down.

ALAN J. DIXON

Act's job curb cited, but anti-job war is escalating

A topic aired at a Granite City Rotary prayer breakfast, the 1977 amendments to the federal Clean Air Act, has led to local, regional and national recognition of the destructive impact. Bi-state officials explained their concern to Illinois and Missouri members of Congress April 4 in Washington.

Bolstering their presentation was a detailed, 17-week study just completed by the Rice Center, of Houston, Tex., focused on the local metropolitan areas.

It showed that over the next 15 years 46,010 potential jobs will be lost, population will be restricted by 108,950 due to insufficient employment opportunities, and there will be a $4.4 billion loss in total annual output.

The predictions assume strict enforcement of the overly rigid amendments, which to a large degree block any new employers, regardless of how much or little they would affect air quality. James M. O'Flynn of St. Louis summed up by saying that the job base cannot be increased and must be allowed to worsen "unless environmental regulations are brought into closer relationship with reality and with what can be achieved."

In addition to contacting national legislators, the delegation presented the study findings to Douglas M. Costle, administrator of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. Unfortunately, Costle has just escalated the war-on-jobs by proposing rules to "recover the costs a company avoids by not complying with air pollution laws."

Costle notes, "Prior to the 1977 amendments, the regulatory and enforcement measures available to the federal government lacked direct economic incentives to ensure prompt and continuous compliance."

The rules he is proposing, authorized but not spelled out by Section 120 of the Clean Air Act, would require the EPA — without going through courts — to administratively assess and collect penalties equal to the economic savings a firm enjoys by not complying with the law.

These new penalties, which are to go into effect after mid-1979, would be in addition to any other payments, sanctions or requirements under the Clean Air Act. The program would not affect or be affected by any civil or criminal proceedings brought under any other provision of the Act or state or local laws.

Public comment on Costle's proposal may be submitted within 90 days of March 21 to Robert Homiak, Division of Stationary Source Enforcement, EN-341, Environmental Protection Agency, 401 M St. S. W., Washington, D.C. 20460. The telephone number is 202-755-2581. Public hearings will be held May 3-4 in Washington, D.C., May 7-8 in Chicago and May 10-11 in San Francisco.

Political hiring by non-politician

To the Editor:

As past president of AF-SME (A Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees) Local 799, and now serving on the executive board, I want to speak out in behalf of our union.

Our union has never been so strong, but has never been so strongly challenged.

We have more members than ever. But we have many more difficulties and responsibilities. We have never been prepared for hostility, and we have never faced such hostile adversaries.

We have lost a few disputes but, in spite of the losses, which were few, we have had some enormous successes. We have problems, but we're building the strength to cope with these problems.

Our union must be a strong force in politics, but we would prefer to use that strength to meet all the concerns of society. We would rather settle our differences at the bargaining table than resolve them politically.

I regret that an elected official has singled out some of our members as scapegoats.

Since Dec. 1, 1978, when County Treasurer Michael Henkhaus took office, he has eliminated six employees and has hired five new people to his staff, and yet these are not supposed to be political obligations.

Since I am a member of Local 799, I believe we should fight against injustices suffered by public employees.

When Henkhaus was running for the office of county treasurer, he stated March 17, 1978, "The American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees — to represent them and offer effective job protection. As a past member of the AF-SME, I can state that it is a far more efficient means of helping the public employees."

It bothers me to speak out. My question is why five capable individuals with experience? It seems like when he was running for this office, he was trying to implant in people's minds what the reason was for having a non-political office.

People should study evidence of the action behind the hiring of the five new employees.

No help in coping with angry dog

To the Editor:

I make reference to the recent newspaper article and pictures concerning the city inspector's actions. I am not surprised that there are problems in that office.

To make a long story short, I walk to the corner of the block where I live to catch the bus to work in downtown St. Louis. For a period of six months, I tried to get through his office, a deplorable situation corrected.

A large dog would run from its yard across the street to attack me after I had pleaded with its owner to restrict it for one hour each morning, to no avail. I got such answers as we cannot do anything about it until it bites you.

The final answer I got after much correspondence read, "Regarding your letter, my suggestion to Mr. Caudle is to stop antagonizing the animal and the dog owner will comply with the city ordinance on animals."

In other words, a taxpayer walking only on the sidewalk and across the street has no rights to the use of public property. However, a dog does.

Carbon copies of all my letters have gone to the city attorney and the mayor's office. That was Dec. 27, 1978, and to date I have not received an answer from them. A public servant to do the least could answer his mail positively.

I believe there is a lot of cleanup needed in this department but not at private businesses at taxpayers' expense.

To the Editor:

Here is a simple and dramatic answer to disposing of the old Chain of Rocks Bridge, which sits idly by and is rusting away over the Mississippi.

It would be an eventful day for all to remember. In addition, charge $1 or so to witness the event, to add to the revenue for the once-in-a-lifetime event.

I sent the information to Governor Thompson, and to Producer Irwin Allen, who said it had merit. The bridge falling into the water would in no way hamper river traffic, as it is channeled around the bridge by the Chain of Rocks Canal a mile distant from the bridge.

There is no danger in a controlled explosion, as many buildings are done in that way — in the center of large cities, with no problems relative to safety.

When they made the movie bridge for a movie.

Have rides and concessions at the east end of the bridge, sell souvenirs, etc. And have the movie people there for the "big day" the bridge went down. It would be an eventful day for all to remember. In addition, charge $1 or so to witness the event, to add to the revenue for the once-in-a-lifetime event.

Incidentally, as it has been sitting there daily for these years, another thought would be to put a large "Erie Canal" sign, connect the City of Madison, on it.

Millions of cars use the Interstate 270 parallel to the bridge and, who knows, someone driving by — industrialist or a scrap dealer — would see it and might purchase it.

My interest stems from being born and raised in Madison, and the nostalgic memories the bridge has should go out with its "deed" in a blaze of glory.

When playing Doc Walton's volleyball 'oldsters,' blame the sun and wind

PEOPLE

Both teams were up that day. It was to be the battle of the ages, the old pros against the young but inexperienced team. Both were determined to show the other that volleyball was serious business, not some ho-hum game designed for children.

Members of the younger team were on their way to being smugred that day, but they didn't know that as they suited up and took to the court at the Tri-City Area YMCA. They were ready to give the "old guys" a run for their money.

The "old guys" were Eugene "Doc" Walton's mighty band of volleyball people, fellows who have been into the game for a long time. The team has been playing together three times a week for years and years.

The opposing team was made up of guys who figured that their youth would be enough to cause them to be the victors. They fell into feeble excuses rather than admit that the "old guys" had simply outclassed them.

"The sun got in my eyes," moaned Ed Mercer, physical director at the "Y" and a member of the younger team, "and there was the wind. It seemed to change direction so that we were always serving into it." The fact that the event took place indoors made Mercer's comments a trifle on the unbelievable side. Doc's volleyball people for the most part run with the over-50 crowd. Most are business and professional men who have been getting together at the "Y" since 1960.

Walton contends that too many business people, particularly men, sit on their easy chairs and get no exercise. He further believes that getting together for a game of volleyball is a great way to vent frustrations.

"We rant and rave and scream and holler when we're out on the court," Walton said. "It's good preventative medicine. None of our guys have ulcers."

"It feels great to come off of the court after a hard-fought game," he continued. "You feel refreshed. If I were to miss a week, I would feel it."

Doc and his band of merry men have been playing together for so long that they know exactly what each team member is going to do in any given situation. They have combinations worked out so well that a number code is used on court.

They played together at the Northside YMCA before the program at the local "Y" started. Glenn Wolfe, Roy Nishoff, Mike Reinhardt, Bob Spengler, Jim Henderson, C. A. "Bud" Macmillan, Bill Terrell, Avery Schermer, Bill Harris and Joe Nemeth (deceased) made up the group that began the three-times-a-week volleyball sessions here. Most still play.

They wandered the countryside, challenging anyone who would play. They have won 104 games and lost three. Two of the matches they lost were to varsity STUE teams.

A fantastic record, and yet the team has never had uniforms or even a name. The players weren't in it for the glory, according to Dr.

Walton, but just for the fun of it. "We have always been a sort of ragtag team," he said. "We never felt the need for fancy uniforms or a name for the team. It just wasn't important."

Walton took his team to Scott Air Force Base one time. The flyguys were all suited up and looking fine in their uniforms, according to Walton.

"They had a major and a captain for coaches and they were smug," he said. "They thought we would be easy. They were wrong. We beat them."

With such a record, it is little wonder that they find few formal games these days. It has been YMCA Director Paul Grennell's wish for a long time to put together a team that could beat Doc Walton's superstars.

Grennell and Ed Mercer decided to put a team of young guys (18-32) up against Doc's boys. The team, in all fairness to the losers, was made up of men who hadn't played much volleyball together.

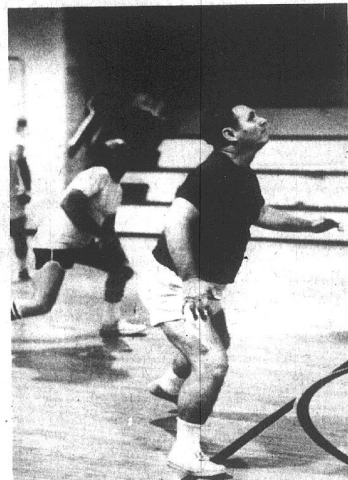

But they were determined to take on the "old guys" and were completely wiped out for their trouble. Mercer said that although his youngsters tried hard, there was a big difference in basic style between the two teams. "They were good," he summed up. "We were bad."

Grennell said that Doc's team played a great match. "Our guys just didn't have a good day," he said. "It was one of the worst defeats of my life. But then, I didn't get much sleep the night before the match."

Four games were played that day. Doc's team won them all, going away.

A rematch is planned, but Mercer isn't really too hopeful. His comment on the rematch: "Maybe it will rain."

Police don't back yearbook

Granite City police are alerting local businesses and residents that a fund solicitation drive under way for the United Peach Orchard Year Book is not endorsed by the local police. The United Fraternal Order of Peace Officers in Washington, D.C., has solicited some local businesses for funds for advertising in a yearbook. One advertisement costs nearly $50, an invoice referred to the police shows.

Lt. Col. George Tellor of the Granite City police said local police agencies have not been asked to endorse the yearbook and are not familiar with the United Fraternal Order of Peace Officers.

St. Louis youth hurt

Mike Hurley, 14, of St. Louis, sustained an accidental injury last week when he was harassed by a group of boys in the 2800 block of East 28th Street. Hurley was among several youngsters going door-to-door soliciting subscriptions for a St. Louis newspaper when confronted by three 13-year-old boys, one 12-year-old and one 11-year-old. One local boy allegedly threw an egg at the St. Louis youth and another tried to hit him with a stick, saying "We don't like people from St. Louis. We beat them up."

Hurley started chasing the boys and fell to the sidewalk. Officer Tim Lyler came to the scene and was informed of the incident by the boy's supervisor, who was driving a van.

The officer applied his clipboard as a splint to the youth's arm, which was found to be fractured when examined at St. Elizabeth Medical Center after he was taken there by ambulance.

The boys involved, questioned by an officer, admitted words were exchanged and an egg was dropped. The Hurley boy tried to hit one boy with a newspaper and later fell on the sidewalk, they told police.

He was transferred to St. John's Mercy Hospital, St. Louis, after emergency treatment here.

Oaklawn Terrace
47 Janday Lane Granite City, Ill.

Observe and come see this brand new brick ranch home in Granite City's loveliest location. The spacious landscaped corner lot allows you the elbow room for that estate feeling. Like the smell of a new car, the aroma is repeated in the casual atmosphere of over two thousand square feet of living area. The extreme formality in the chandeliered dining room, living room and entry will say nice things about you when guests arrive through the columned porch. Combined kitchen and family room with vaulted ceiling and floor to ceiling masonry fireplace promise everlasting contentment. Extra large roofed back porch can be enclosed for privacy and lounging throughout the year. The deep basement is ready for finishing and has a masonry fireplace of its own. Side entry finished garage will hold what you have and up to four cars. It has two electric doors. There are three generous size bedrooms; including a grand master suite, with full bath and three double closets. Another full bath services the other two bedrooms with double closets. White six-panel doors are used throughout the home.

Jenn-Aire range, microwave plus oven, dishwasher, disposer and pantry are in the kitchen with built-in fast burner. Oversize gas furnace with central air will always be helped by firmly packed energy saving package. Once you open the stained glass entry doors we know you'll find exactly what you've been waiting for.
